EVENTS

Off and Running

Some agencies like to have big kick-off events, such as an employee meeting featuring a continental breakfast, to open their campaigns. This is a great time for the federal agency director to endorse the CFC and talk about upcoming campaign activities like employee meetings and fundraisers.

A Ghoulishly Good Time

Many companies choose to conduct their campaign around Halloween. Have a Halloween party, create a haunted house and have a pumpkin-carving or costume contest. Try your luck at pumpkin bowling.

Throw a company dance or even a dance-a-thon. Charge admission, entry fees, or have entrants get pledges for time danced or for number of dances.

Thank You, Thank You, Thank You

Have a breakfast, lunch or dinner to thank your employees for participating in the CFC. Give out thank-you tickets to people who gave, or ask everyone to pay for their meals with proceeds going to CFC.

Mission Accomplished

Once your agency has reached its campaign goal, throw a finale party for the staff. Give a thank-you presentation (or have your CFC Specialist do it for you!). Serve refreshments and have prize drawings.

Charge each player and award a prize to the player with the lowest score.

Tricycle Races

Volunteer Opportunities & Collection Drives

The CFC "Days of Caring" will take place Oct. 6-7 this year, featuring several local charities that have offered custom volunteer opportunities for teams. Volunteering your time is an ideal way to get in touch with the needs of your community. When you combine volunteering with a team of co-workers, it's a great way to strengthen employee relations in your workplace while getting out of the office for a bit. A list of volunteer opportunities will be posted on the local CFC web site, at www.oregon.feb.gov/cfc.

To schedule a volunteer project, contact Tim Gallagher, CFC Manager, at 503-226-9375 or timg@unitedway-pdx.org.

ALMOST ANYTHING GOES

Compliment-o-grams

Make up special forms and sell them to employees as an anonymous way to give a compliment to someone in the office. Compliment-o-grams must be delivered by a trustworthy employee sworn to secrecy. Charge $1-$2 per compliment.

Balloon-o-grams

Have messages tied to helium balloons delivered to designated co-workers. Charge $1-$2 per balloon.

Dead Flower Bouquets

This is a great Halloween idea. Get flower shops and restaurants to donate dead flowers. Employees pay to have a dead-flower bouquet with a message sent to another employee. Charge a dollar or two per flower and message.

Penny Jar

Each department has a jar and each penny equals a point. Anything other coins or bills equals its value in negative points. For example, a dime is minus 10 points. The department with the most positive points at the end of a week wins a prize.

"Survivor" Penny Jar

Assign a penny jar each to several of your organization's top management. Over the course of the campaign, executive-survivors would be "voted off" by the amount of money stuffed into their coin jars.

Treasure Hunt

Sell daily clues to a mystery location where a treasure is hidden. The first employee to guess the location wins the treasure.

Cookbook Sales

Have employees donate recipes and put them together in a cookbook. Give away samples of the food while selling the cookbooks.

Car Wash

Employees pay to get their cars washed in the parking lot during the workday.

Dunk Tank

Set up a dunk tank in the parking lot. Have executives take turns on the "hot seat." Charge $1 per try.

Dress Down for the CFC

Employees pay $5 to wear casual clothes on a specific workday during the campaign. Each employee who participates gets a CFC sticker to wear that day.

Health and Human Service Fair

Work with your CFC Specialist and request that CFC agency booths be set up in the cafeteria or large conference room. The fair is not to make money, but it's a good way to raise awareness about the CFC.

Executive Shoe Shine

The company executives set up a shoe shine stand in a heavy traffic area. The executives shine employee shoes for a CFC donation.
